What does the client SAY

A group of people come together to do something about climate.
Repair Cafe fixes a whole bunch of stuff
The Pollinator is their newsletter. Its a monthly newsletter highlighting stuff happening around.
They like Calgary Climate Hub
Indigenous Climate Action is too flashy.
A donation fund on the website can be added → Erin suggested

What does the client THINK

Current website is simple.
They want to expand the board of volunteers.
There's a booking page for the repair cafe.
Their booking system is bizzare. They need to know their clients information.
They want to have a resource directory. They want a searchable resource database for the newsletter.
They want to encourage upskilling, recycling and so much more.
They want easy to navigate and simple website
They want to acknowledge their volunteers in Repair Cafe.
They want online booking and a way if you book a certain person, that person cant be booked for other stuff.
There should be booking rules.
